A-list celebrities from Puerto Rico are heading to Scotland in a minivan next month to film a reality television show.

Comedians Jorge Pabon and Robert 'Yoyo' Ferran, who are huge in their native country, are expected to cause quite a stir when they rock up in Edinburgh and at Loch Ness in their campervan.

They will be filming scenes for Check In' is a reality TV show, which follows Puerto Rican stars as they experiences different cultures from around the world.

Haggis, deep fried Mars bars and whisky are high on the list of delicacies the Latino funnymen are hoping to sample as they get to grips with the midgies and all things Scottish.

The pair, who are household names in South America, are also expected to attend a traditional Highland wedding, decked out in kilts.

The director Arnaldo Santiago Rivera said: "Scotland is an exciting and vibrant country with such a diverse population.

"I thought that it would be a fantastic opportunity for Jorge and Robert to see the country not from a tourist's perception but to be fully immersed in its culture and experience things that they wouldn't necessarily experience if they were to come to Scotland on holiday."
